You will become more knowledgeable, comfortable and effective in your work around opiate issues, interventions and support as well as various treatment options, at any stage of the continuum. The day includes presentation, panels and room discussion.

HIGHLIGHTS

CAST Canada panels allow time for your questions to be answered. Included in the day:

- Presentation and Q+A by plain spoken Ottawa Pharmacist Mark Barnes
- Presentation and Q+A by some folk working on these issues in support and street outreach.
- Brutally honest and productive video created by opiate users before, during and after a point of change.
- Panel of people with direct experience with various addictions, including opiates

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

You are a frontline worker, program planner or any professional whose clients often have addiction and/or trauma issues. The day designed for shelter and housing workers, O.W. and ODSP workers, therapists, correctional officers, Children's Aid, probation officers, professors and students, EAP professionals and others.

THE ORGANIC ORIGIN OF THE CAST CANADA PANEL PROCESS

Since 2004, CAST Canada has held more than 75 panel discussions in which frontline workers have explored what worked and what didn't, gathering a deep, intuitive understanding of the process of addressing trauma, addiction and recovery. More than 1,800 frontline workers have attended CAST Canada panel.
